ABOUT BEST DESIGN MEDIA AWARD

The Best Design Media Award is a special recognition granted by the A' Design Award to leading design publications around the world who are nominated by thousands of award winning designers, artists and architects from across the globe. This is different from the A' Design Award where entries are peer reviewed and awarded by a grand jury panel following strict evaluation criteria; Best Design Media Award recipients are selected by laureates of the A' Design Award who indicate a list of prominent design publications they follow, wish to be featured at and adore. Best Design Media status is granted once to each publication to acknowledge their role and support for creation of a better World where heightened appreciation and understanding of good design leads to creation of better products, goods and services that benefit society.
